

"From the moment she powered up her amp, a throng of music lovers gathered to listen. Bikers stopped to soak up her songs and pedestrians sang along from across the street." – Bradley Turcotte, Kitchissippi Times

Bio:

Singer-Songwriter. Chameleon. Her tender voice and her combination of jazz, folk, pop, and blues will leave you pleasantly astounded. Danielle Allard is a singer-songwriter, multi-instrumentalist and Twitch Partner. She has been performing publicly for over 15 years and graced stages across Canada and Europe. This Ottawa native has toured Germany, Portugal and much of Canada but also performs 3 times a week for an international audience as a music streamer.

Her festival appearances include features at RBC Bluesfest, Marvest, Jazz Fest, Mountain Man Music Festival, and a main stage feature at Ottawa's CityFolk Festival. She has also been featured in showcases at Megaphono and Folk Music Ontario. She has released two studio albums "Chameleon" and "Passing Notes" and is currently in the studio recording her third, highly-anticipated release "Songs for Dinosaurs." She is known for her charity work in the nation's capital, donating over 30 performances to various charities each year and raising over $18,000 for various charities on her stream. Apart from her music, she is a community builder, teaching public relations and stage performance at Algonquin College. She runs a variety of virtual community events on her Discord server weekly, creating a space for us all to exist.
